

Bathroom Decluttering Checklist

- As a prerequisite to organizing your bathroom, be ready with your cleaning tools. Also, prepare trash bags and protective gear such as gloves and, if needed, a gas mask.
- Prepare bins or containers where the sizes will depend on how many items you have in your bathroom.

Label these containers according to where they are classified, such as toiletries, kids' toys, décor, and linens.

If you have smaller items, you can further categorize them as shampoo, soap, makeup, oils, etc.

- Assign a time when you are unlikely to be disturbed when cleaning your bathroom if you are planning for a general clean.

Assign a scheduled time for maintenance, such as setting aside once a week or twice a week.

- Prepare a box to place unnecessary items that may be eventually used in the future to be set aside. You can also donate items to charity if you prefer.
- Remove all items from the bathroom, including electronic gadgets and mounted hooks or bins.
- While removing items, place them in the assigned box or containers with labels.
- Once you have purged items from the removed items, it's time to clean up your bathroom.
- After a thorough cleaning, return your items. You may choose to have vertical or multi-purpose organizers and storage trays to house your toiletries.
- Utilize storage by finding ways to use unusable or odd spaces, such as over-the-door organizers, wall-mounted shelves, and stackable ottomans.
